Statement of Tuition Assurance

Australian Early Education Institute Pty Ltd trading as Fairmont College Australia ('FCA')
ABN: 13 656 749 941 | TEQSA Provider ID: PRV14386
Date of Statement: 20 August 2026

Fairmont College Australia (FCA) is a TEQSA-registered higher education provider and is currently progressing its CRICOS registration. FCA has contacted the Australian Government Tuition Protection Service (TPS) in preparation for the tuition protection arrangements that will apply once CRICOS registration commences.

FCA's CRICOS Registration Application is under assessment; once approved, FCA will apply for TPS membership. The Australian Government advises that international education providers do not separately register for TPS membership. TPS coverage is automatic when CRICOS registration takes effect and the provider has paid the initial TPS levy.

The TPS is an Australian Government initiative that assists international students on student visas if their education provider is unable to fully deliver their course of study. When the TPS applies, it may assist an affected student to either:

- continue their studies in another course or with another education provider; or
- receive a refund of unspent tuition fees for education that was paid for but not received.

Once FCA's CRICOS registration and TPS coverage commence, if FCA is unable to deliver a course for which an international student has paid tuition fees, FCA will meet its obligations under the Education Services for Overseas Students Act 2000 (Cth) and the TPS framework. Where the TPS is required to assist, it may help the student identify a suitable alternative course or, where an alternative is not arranged, facilitate the applicable refund of unspent tuition fees.

FCA obtains a trust account to maintain students' tuition fees, secured by a contingency fund to protect students' tuition fees.

Current status: FCA has contacted the TPS. CRICOS registration and TPS coverage are pending. This statement will be updated when FCA's CRICOS registration commences and its TPS coverage is confirmed. Before the approval of TPS, we have a designated trust account for student tuition fees. The student fees will be kept in the trust account before the course commences. In addition, we have a contingency fund in place as a safeguard for student tuition fees.
